NOVEMBER, 1964

Campus Sees Record Turnout

Beautiful autumn weather ushered in a jam packed Homecoming weekend October 2, 3, and 4.

Over 2000 people attended the Homecoming football game between the conference leading Evansville Aces and the Saint Joe Pumas.

Before the game the Homecoming queen was crowned and during half time the finest Saint Joe Band in many a season entertained the fans.

Immediately following the game a reception and dinner for alumni and seniors was held in Halleck Center. John McCann, President of the Saint Joseph's College Alumni Association, welcomed the alumni. While this was taking place on one floor of Halleck Center, the five and ten year reunion classes of 1954 and 1959 were reliving old times in another part of the Student Center building. Approximately one third of the total membership of each reunion class returned for the Homecoming.

Following the "happy hour", a steak dinner was served.

At 9:30 p.m., the largest crowd ever to attend a Homecoming dance filled the Halleck Center ballroom to near capacity. Two awards were presented at the dance, the Rudy Volz Memorial Alumni Trophy was given to Terry Davisson, most valuable player of the Homecoming game, and the first Alumni Service Award plaque and citation was presented to Tom DeMint for "outstanding service to his alma mater."

The weekend festivities were brought to a close Sunday with the celebration of Mass for the alumni in the College Chapel.

DeMint Receives 1st Service Award

Mr. Thomas DeMint, '59, right, an Art Director and Television Writer for the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency in Chicago, received the first Saint Joseph's College Alumni Service Award for outstanding service to his alma mater. John McCann of Indianapolis, President of the Saint Joseph's College Alumni Association presented the award.

The award was given to Tom at the Saint Joseph's College Homecoming October 3rd. Tom was cited for his outstanding work in the development of two series of Direct Mail Fund Appeals for the College's Diamond Jubilee Capital Gifts Campaign, which exceeded by thousands of dollars its original goal.

Indiana Companies Give Scholarships

Four Saint Joseph's College students have received scholarships for the 1964-65 school year.

Pat Gerardot, junior, from Fort Wayne, and Richard Pih, junior from South Bend, received scholarships amounting to $500 apiece that are donated annually by the Magnavox Corporation, Ft. Wayne.

Norbert Krapf, senior from Jasper, Indiana, and David Brodrick from Fort Wayne, also received scholarships amounting to $500 apiece. They were donated by the Central Newspaper Foundation.

This scholarship program was established by Mr. Eugene Pulliam, publisher of the Indianapolis News and Star.

Bishop Issenmann To Cleveland See

His Holiness, Pope Paul VI, recently named Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann, '27, Coadjutor Bishop of Cleveland, with the right of succession, and Apostolic Administrator "sede plena" of this diocese of over 853,000 Catholics.

Cleveland will be the third See in which Bishop Issenmann has served as a member of the hierarchy. Prior to his appointment as sixth Bishop of Columbus in December 1957, he was Auxiliary Bishop of Cincinnati.

Born in Hamilton, Ohio, May 30, 1907, Bishop Issenmann attended Hamilton Catholic High School, Saint Joseph's College, Saint Gregory Seminary, and Mount Saint Mary of the West.

Schreiber Named Lay Trustee

G. R. Schreiber, '43, publisher and author, was elected a member of the Board of Lay Trustees of Saint Joseph's College. Announcement of the election was made by the Very Rev. Raphael Gross, C.P.S., president.

G. R. last year received the Alumni Merit Award. He is editor and publisher of Vend Magazine, and author of "The Bobby Baker Affair," a current best-seller.

Earlier this year G. R. received the Jesse H. Neal Award for Outstanding Journalism as a result of an article he wrote which first brought to light the outside business activities of Bobby Baker, then Secretary to the U. S. Senate majority.

Mr. Schreiber is the sixth Saint Joe alumnus to be named to the Board of Lay Trustees. The other alumni are: Frank A. Benchik, M.D., '42, Munster; James R. Bogan, '43, Park Forest, Illinois; William A. Hanley, '08, Indianapolis;

G. R. Schreiber

Justin H. Oppenheim, '19, Centerville, Ohio; and Raymond G. Ziegman, '22, Orville, Ohio.

Mr. Schreiber his wife and three children, live in Glenview, Ill.

Pope Honors Lay Trustee

Morris Jacobs, member of the Saint Joseph's College Board of Lay Trustees since 1951, was one of 47 Nebraskans in the Archdiocese of Omaha to receive a papal honor. He was made Knight of Saint Gregory, Civil Class.

The honor was presented to Mr. Jacobs recently by Archbishop Bergan in a ceremony in Saint Cecilia's Cathedral in Omaha.

One of two non-Catholics receiving the papal honor, Mr. Jacobs is a member of the Jewish faith. He is also on the Board of Lay Trustees at Creighton University.

Mr. Jacobs, of Bozell & Jacobs, Inc., lives at 700 Kiewit Plaza, Omaha.

SJC Library Among Top in US

Accreditation of an institution has many lasting values for the institution involved. One value that was pursued at Saint Joseph's was initiated twenty years ago, and that value has been pursued by the administration without once retreating. Twenty years ago Saint Joseph's administration determined it would provide a library that would meet standards and provide more than adequate service to students and faculty. When the college was accredited the library was found to be more than representative in every aspect. It was a very good library in North Central Association's estimation.

There is a tendency to relax once a goal is achieved. But there has never been relaxation where the library is concerned. Many budgets cuts have been necessary in past years, yet the library was always given priority in budget committees. If we review the pattern of growth during the past twenty years we find a continuous strengthening of all resources. When the college faced an increasing student population and growing faculty, the library was found already prepared to fulfill the greater demands. It was indeed a very good library.

Several years ago, as we were growing, the administration was bent on building a great undergraduate liberal arts college. The tempo of building resources was stepped up, so that today the library is adding more than 10,000 volumes a year, subscribing to about 1,400 periodicals, and providing professional service during most of the 100 hours it is open each week. A budget of over $125,000 is surely adequate to provide the best kind of library. Already there is sufficient evidence that Saint Joseph's College Library is a great library. In just a few years we are projecting a library image of excellence. This is possible because a foundation was there to build upon.

Are we really great? In a statistical study conducted by the college librarian and published nationally last May (1964) our library is shown ranked among the large college and university libraries. We feel that a safe statement is this: Saint Joseph's College should be ranked among the very best — top two or three — Catholic undergraduate liberal arts college libraries. If we don't look back, but continue at our present pace, excellence will be assured — the very best!

We Hear From . . .

Dear Jerry,

Well, I've been away from Joe's for 16 months now and since that time a lot of things have happened.

First of all, I got tired of hearing the old saying "Come back and see us when you have the service out of the way." So I signed up for the Navy. I did not pass the physical because I had a history of a bleeding ulcer. So next I signed up for the Army. I did not pass their physical either. So I walked into the local draft board and said "Take me." They sent me a bible, candy, stamps and the one way ticket. I was ready — they weren't. I'm classified 4-F because of the bleeding ulcer. This all happened last summer.

Now that I got that part of my life out of the way, I took my degree and the draft classification and became one of those Americans with no experience, a college degree and no job, but looking.

I heard about a company in the town next to mine and went over. The man did not have an opening, but thought he might create an opening. So on September 9, 1963, I got the chance to use all I had acquired at Joe's. I'm still there.

The name of the company is the Worthington Ball Co. It is a division of Victor-Comptometer Corp. We made only one product at our plant — golf balls. In fact, since I've been there, we have made over 12 million golf balls. It is a small company with about 200 employees, so I do a lot of different jobs. I am in charge of inventories, all assets such as machinery and equipment, most of the costs. Next month I will be put in charge of the payroll department.

Since I've been out of school, I've only seen two of the guys I graduated with. Had plans for Homecoming, but I had to work. Jim Marquardt, '63, 2105 West Erie Avenue, Lorain, Ohio.

Dear Jerry,

Recent interviews with deans of numerous Eastern law schools have made me more proud than ever of my Alma Mater, for everyone knew of St. Joseph's and praised her highly. . . I shall be entering Seton Hall University School of Law, Newark, N.J., in September. . .

The graduates of St. Joseph's don't realize how great a college we have, I'm afraid, — at least many of them do not — and it isn't until one meets educators from other colleges and universities that he becomes fully aware of the college's reputation and quality. Yet we have much room for improvement at Collegeville and I, for one, am anxiously awaiting the day when all such improvement can be realized. That money is needed I know, but I must place my aid in a state of suspension for the time being, releasing it when possible to render tangible expression of my sincere gratitude for my college.

John L. Madden, '64, Bella Bridge Road, Medford, New Jersey.

Dear Sir,

Since my graduation in February 1958, I've been in the Marine Corps. Am presently a Captain and flying a transport refueler type aircraft. Have been here at Cherry Point, North Carolina for the past two years.

I receive the alumni news from my home in Ft. Wayne — always good to hear about what's going on. . . Recently celebrated our second wedding anniversary. We have one daughter.

Capt. James McGuire usmc, '58, 33 East Moret, Havelock, N. C.

Dear Jerry,

I am currently in my second year at the Loyola University, Graduate School of Social Work, on a U.S. Public Health Traineeship. It gives me a rather substantial sum for living expenses, in addition to tuition. I have been very fortunate and feel very strongly that a higher power has been a motivating factor.

Another member of the class of '63 is serving in the Peace Corps, as an English teacher in the Philippines. His name is John Keane and I'm sure he would appreciate receiving some mail via Contact. John's address is as follows: John Keane, C/O AMAUTE, 28th Quezon Street, Masbate, Philippines.

The Homecoming weekend was a very positive experience, except for the football game, but we can't expect you to accomplish the impossible.

Hugh Martinelli, '63, 1341 N. State Pkwy., Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Sir,

I am manager of Hometown Finance in South Bend. I am also the proud father of four girls: Lynne-4 years, Laurie Jo-3 Lee Ann-2 years, and Liza Rose-1 year and we are expecting our fifth in Jan. I enjoy the Contact very much. Keep up the good work.

Ronald E. Gronkowski, '60, 54574 Cornell Dr. Mishawaka, Ind.

Dear Jerry,

I'm back here in the "Cotton Country" teaching for another year as an Extension Lay Volunteer. This year I have been appointed vice-principal to go along with my duties as director and teacher of reading in our departmentalized program, director of audio-visual aids, fund raiser and purchasing agent, choir director, basketball coach, sacristan, director of liturgy, and janitor — busy life.

I am applying to Dayton U. Graduate School of Education.

Thank you for running that article on our mission in Contact last Spring. I had no idea that you were printing it so I had a pleasant surprise when I picked up that edition of our alumni magazine.

Ken Brand, '61, P.O. Box 205, Mansura, Louisiana.

Dear Fellow Joe-Man,

I was graduated in '63 and since then have received my degree in Aeronautical Engineering from Purdue. I am currently working for Allison, here in Indianapolis, and will begin night school at the Purdue Extension next week. I hope to receive my Master's in Fluid Mechanics as soon as possible.

Thomas Ciskowski, '63, 2122 N. Ritier, Apt. B5, Indianapolis.

Alum Promoted

Donald C. Heezen

American United Life Insurance Company recently announced the promotion of Donald C. Heezen, '57, to manager of pension administration in the company's home office at Indianapolis, Indiana.

Don, who attended Saint Joseph's College 1955-57, joined American United Life's actuarial department in 1960. Two years later he was named pension actuarial assistant.

He is a member of the Indianapolis Actuarial Club and the Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity.

Two June Visitors Recently Honored

Two honorary degree recipients at Saint Joseph's College 1964 June commencement exercises have received further honors.

Mrs. Lena Edwards, M.D., Negro worker among migrants in Texas, was named among the thirty who won a Medal of Freedom, the highest civil honor the President can bestow.

Father Harold Perry, S.V.D., was appointed to a three-year term as provincial of the Society of the Divine Word's southern province of Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi.

This was the first time in the history of the Society of the Divine Word that a Negro priest has been named provincial of one of their U.S. provinces.

Gary Madison Receives Grant

Gary B. Madison, '62, has been awarded two government grants for doctoral study in France.

From the French government he has received one of 20 fellowships awarded this year to U.S. citizens. The grant will provide a waiver of tuition and fees plus a monthly stipend for living expenses.

In addition to this fellowship and as a supplement, the Department of State has announced his receipt of a United States Travel grant to participate in the international, educational and cultural exchange program. This grant, awarded under the Fulbright-Hays Act, will provide funds for internal U.S. travel, and international travel.

In France, Gary will engage in research work in philosophy with the intention of obtaining his doctorate from Paris University.

A 1958 graduate of St. Patrick Central High School, Kankakee, Ill., Gary received his B.A. cum laude from Saint Joseph's and his M.A. in philosophy from Marquette University.

Koors Award H. E. W. Chief Gives Speech

Father Clemens Koors

This year the Political Science Department of Saint Joseph's College will sponsor an essay contest which will result in the award of $50 to the winning essayist. This Herman and Rebecca Koors Essay Award in Political Science, will be an annual event, and it has been made possible by Father Clemens Koors, Pastor of St. Francis Xavier Church in East Gary, Indiana. Father Koors made the gift in honor of his parents.

The competition is open to all students of the College.

Fred H. Steininger, '39, former director of the Lake County Welfare Dept., spoke at the 28th annual dinner of the department Oct. 7 at Marquette Park Pavilion.

He is director of the Bureau of Family Service, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Fred was the director of the Lake County Department of Public Welfare from 1948 until January 1964. Under his leadership the local welfare department became nationally known for special job-training and self-help programs designed to get people off the assistance rolls by enabling them to become self supporting.

He initiated or helped to develop special committees on aging, youth, alcoholism, and nursing homes; councils for parents of blind children and of retarded children; and a teen-age summer employment program. The Gary Junior Chamber of Commerce gave him its "good government" award in 1955 and the Gary Newspaper Guild its "Page One" award in 1956. Fred has taught courses and led institutes at various universities and was a part-time professor at Valparaiso U. since 1943.

Two campus clubs handle registration, the Courier Club and the Lake County Indiana Club.

Professors Spent Busy Summer

While many Saint Joseph's College students spent the summer in pleasant pursuits, various faculty members of the college were engaged in more productive tasks.

Dr. Jay Barton, professor of biology, traveling extensively around the United States with a group of boys, studied ground roughness as a project for the United States Army.

Ralph Cappuccilli, associate professor of speech, worked toward a Ph.D. in rhetoric. In addition to this, Mr. Cappuccilli taught a speech course at Saint Joseph's College summer session.

Michael Davis, associate professor of geology, completed mapping of the glacial geology of Indiana Geological Survey Department of Conservation. Mr. Davis also taught summer school at Saint Joseph's College.

Frank Sleeman, assistant professor of geology, received a National Science Foundation grant which sponsored his geology field trip to Montana.

Peter Kane, assistant professor of speech, worked towards a Ph.D. in speech at Purdue University.

Father Frederick Lang, C.P.P.S., assistant professor of classical languages, acted as interpreter for the American team at the Third International Competition of Acrobatic Flight at Bilbao, Spain.

Donald Merki, assistant professor of physical education, worked towards a Ph.D. in physical education at the University of Illinois.

Curtis M. Paulsen, assistant professor of mathematics, attended a research seminar on aerophysics in Denver.

Ralph Penington, assistant professor of economics, worked towards a Ph.D. in industrial relations at Purdue University.

Father Ernest W. Ranly, C.P.P.S., assistant professor of philosophy, taught summer school at Immaculata College at Bartlett, Illinois.

Dr. Jacob S. Rodia, associate professor of chemistry, did research work at Saint Joseph's College on polymer science for the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.

Father Ambrose Ruschau, C.P.P.S., associate professor of physics, attended the Radioisotope Technical Institute at the University of Michigan. He was sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Martin Ryan, assistant professor of sociology, worked towards a Ph.D. in sociology at Purdue University. Mr. Ryan is on Sabatical leave this year.

Father Donald Shea, C.P.P.S., associate professor of history, spent the summer at Columbia University in New York as Visiting Scholar in History.

Robert Shemky, associate professor of education, worked towards a Ph.D. in education at Indiana University.

Father Edwin Kaiser, C.P.P.S., professor of religion and head of the Precious Blood Institute, worked on the third volume of his book "Law of Christ" which will be completed this fall. Father Kaiser also finished writing some articles for the New Catholic Encyclopedia.

Our Man In Africa Reports

(Editor's Note: Brother Joseph Weissling, O.F.M., '51, is now headmaster of a new upper primary school for African children located in the northwestern part of Northern Rhodesia, six miles from Angola and twenty from the Congo. Here is another periodic report from Brother about his country.)

Dear Jerry,

Thanks for the generous spread in the April issue of Contact.

The political tempo has increased considerably since last I wrote. Recently one of the local ANC men was shot through the heart with an arrow from the bow of a UNIP supporter and that brought about the establishment of a permanent police camp at the Boma. It also brought Dr. Kaunda out to lecture both parties, and the chiefs, about their responsibilities. He also had some of the more wild-eyed of his UNIP supporters and organizers removed to less hostile sections of the country. But not all of the trouble is caused by UNIP. A couple of months ago Bro. Louie and I were down in Chief Chibwika's area on a modest safari, and, as is the custom, we hired four of the local natives as hunters and carriers. Having had a bit of luck I took some pictures of them and of the game we shot, promising to send them some prints when next one of the Fathers came that way to tend to their spiritual needs. So a few weeks ago Father Sylvester took the prints with him but returned with them a few days later with the news that the four of them were in prison. It seems that they, plus a number of other villagers, being strong ANC supporters had heard that a careful of UNIP men would be passing that way on a journey down to Kabompo Boma. Not to let such an opportunity pass without showing where their own political sympathies lay, they built a road-block and were just putting the finishing touches on it when they heard the sound of an engine coming up the hill. Only too late did they notice that it was a police Landrover overflowing with the Law. Though they innocently attempted a hasty dismantling of the road-block it didn't fool anyone, especially the police, who rounded up as many as they could and later transported them back to town in the prison van.

Just after the excitement of all of that had died down along came a full company of the Northern Rhodesian army to occupy the district. The official reason was simply yearly maneuvers but the real reason, apparently, was to guard the borders in order to prevent Tshombe's army from using Rhodesia as a shortcut from its base in Angola to its destination in Katanga, especially now that Tshombe is back in power. Months ago the people here (who, like Tshombe are of the Lunda tribe) were telling us that Tshombe would return to power and we didn't believe them.

Though the government claims that few whites are leaving the country and that, indeed, barring former government employees, they have little or no reason to leave, it is a fact that some school enrollments have dropped tremendously. In one case one Copperbelt secondary school, which last year had an enrollment of over 600 European pupils, expects to have no more than 100 this coming year. It is quite possible, of course, that the fathers of families are sending their wives and children out of the country till after independence or until they have some assurance that they won't be victims of another 'Congo' Incident.

At any rate, it is good to see the Africans taking a more active part in the affairs of their country, as it is good to see them attending school with Europeans and doing that work which was previously done only by the Europeans.

Before I forget it, Jerry, I would like to mention that there is always 'open house' at OLC mission for any and all St. Joe men who happen to be in the vicinity!

Sincerely in St. Francis,
Bro. Joseph, O.F.M. Conv.

BASKETBALL 1964-65

By LARRY WEDRYK

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE
BASKETBALL
1964-65

On October 21 the basketball Pumas opened their practice session for the upcoming '64-'65 season. It is expected that the cagers will have a considerably good team, with the six returning lettermen and two returning with a year's absence.

Coach Jim Holstein lost three lettermen, Tom Sager, Al Papai and Bob Mokros. Consequently, Coach Holstein's biggest problem is the lack of a big man. Coach Holstein has two good rebounders in Lonnie Brunswick and Paul Zosel. Lonnie was the leading scorer last year with a fourteen point per game average. He has his work cut out for him if he wants to repeat in the same capacity this year. Also returning will be George Post and Fred Farley. Post, who holds the school record for the most points scored in a single game with forty-two, and Farley should prove to be a valuable pair in Coach Holstein's lineup. Junior Tom Crowley is also coming along fine as is the case with junior Larry Yeagley. Both men now have a year's experience under their belt that is so necessary in college ball. Rounding out the team will be Terry Davisson, star football player, and senior reserve guard, Ken Dockus.

The overall height of the team is good with seven men between 6-3 and 6-4. As coach Holstein said, "The competition at practice will make the ball club." So far, because nobody on the team has a definite position, the individual competition has been high. This year the team will elect a captain whereas in the past Coach Holstein appointed him.

The season starts December 1 at Illinois State University in Normal, Illinois. The home opener will be December 5 against Anderson. The toughest opponents that the Pumas will face will be, Cincinnati, Evansville, Butler, and Indiana State, according to the coach, who once played pro ball with the Minneapolis Lakers. "Evansville will be the team to beat this year in the ICC."

To sum it up, it seems that Saint Joe's will field a strong experienced basketball team this season, with good height but still lacking the big man.

Gridiron Foes Of Yesterday

Recently, a Saint Joseph's football player and his gridiron foe of 22 years, met in Canton, Ohio.

The Very Rev. Msgr. Robert C. Fannon, '44, lineman for Saint Joseph's and Babe Dimancheff, half-back for Butler University, met in a game in 1942 at Indianapolis in which Saint Joseph's won a 6-0 victory that made them conference champions for the year.

Now, both men are in dissimilar professions, but still have an avid interest in the sport. The Very Rev. Msgr. Fannon is administrative head of Central Catholic High School in Canton and Babe Dimancheff is head coach and general manager of the new Canton Bulldogs of the United Football League. The Bulldogs hold their home games at Central Catholic stadium, which is under Msgr. Fannon's jurisdiction as administrative head of Central Catholic.

Monsignor Fannon wished Dimancheff well, and there is no doubt but that the Bulldogs have another staunch fan pulling for them in the race for the UFL title this year.

Fort Wayne Communion Breakfast

Fort Wayne Alumni and Parents at the September Communion Sunday breakfast. Father Spanbauer and Jerry Gladu represented the College at the function. This is the 3rd in a series of Fort Wayne Chapter functions. Future functions: a basketball bus trip, and an informal dance.
